WHAT TO DO IF YOU HAVE A PET EMERGENCY

Don't panic. Please stay calm. Your pet will benefit.

During Business Hours

- * Call us - 717-792-2531
- * Give your name, pet's name, and state the nature of the emergency.
- * Give your phone number. Our receptionist will ask you to repeat it.
- * We will instruct you on the care to be given and how to best transport your pet.

Please refrain from calling Dr. Ingold's emergency contact number to change existing appointments. Thank you.

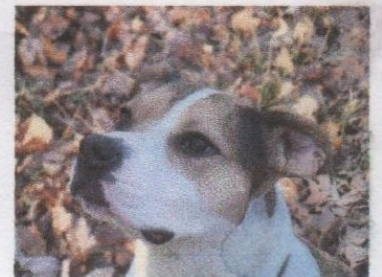

After-Hours Emergencies (for Existing Clients Only):

- * Call 717-792-2531 - Listen to our recording for instructions on how to reach Dr. Ingold.
- * If you cannot wait to reach us, call the Animal Emergency Clinic of York at 717-767-5355.
- * Veterinarians are always on duty at the AEC of York
- * Provide the AEC with your name, your pet's name, and state the nature of the emergency.
- * Give the AEC your phone number.
- * The AEC of York will be able to treat and observe your pet throughout the nighttime hours if necessary.

When and Why Your Pet Needs

Regular Physical Exams:

Pets often mask their pain; this is instinctive survival behavior for them. Unless obvious, your pet simply cannot tell you where it hurts. A Comprehensive Physical Exam enables our veterinary team to detect abnormalities that help uncover disease. Further, a Comprehensive Physical Exam is the basic tool used to evaluate your pet's health status and to help you make informed decisions about the care of your special companion.
